BODENSEE

BODENSEE, LAKE CONSTANCE

Dornbirn is a town in the district of Dornbirn in the Austrian federal state of Vorarlberg, and is the most populous town in the Land of Vorarlberg. It is located south of Bregenz, near the borders with Switzerland, Germany and Liechtenstein. The river Dornbirnerach flows through the town before emptying into Lake Constance.

Dornbirn is the largest town in Vorarlberg, being an important commercial centre. It is home to the regional centre of ORE (Austrian Radio and Television), the Vorarlberg School of Applied Sciences (Fachhochschule) and other institutions. The town was an important centre of the textile industry until its decline in the 1980s.

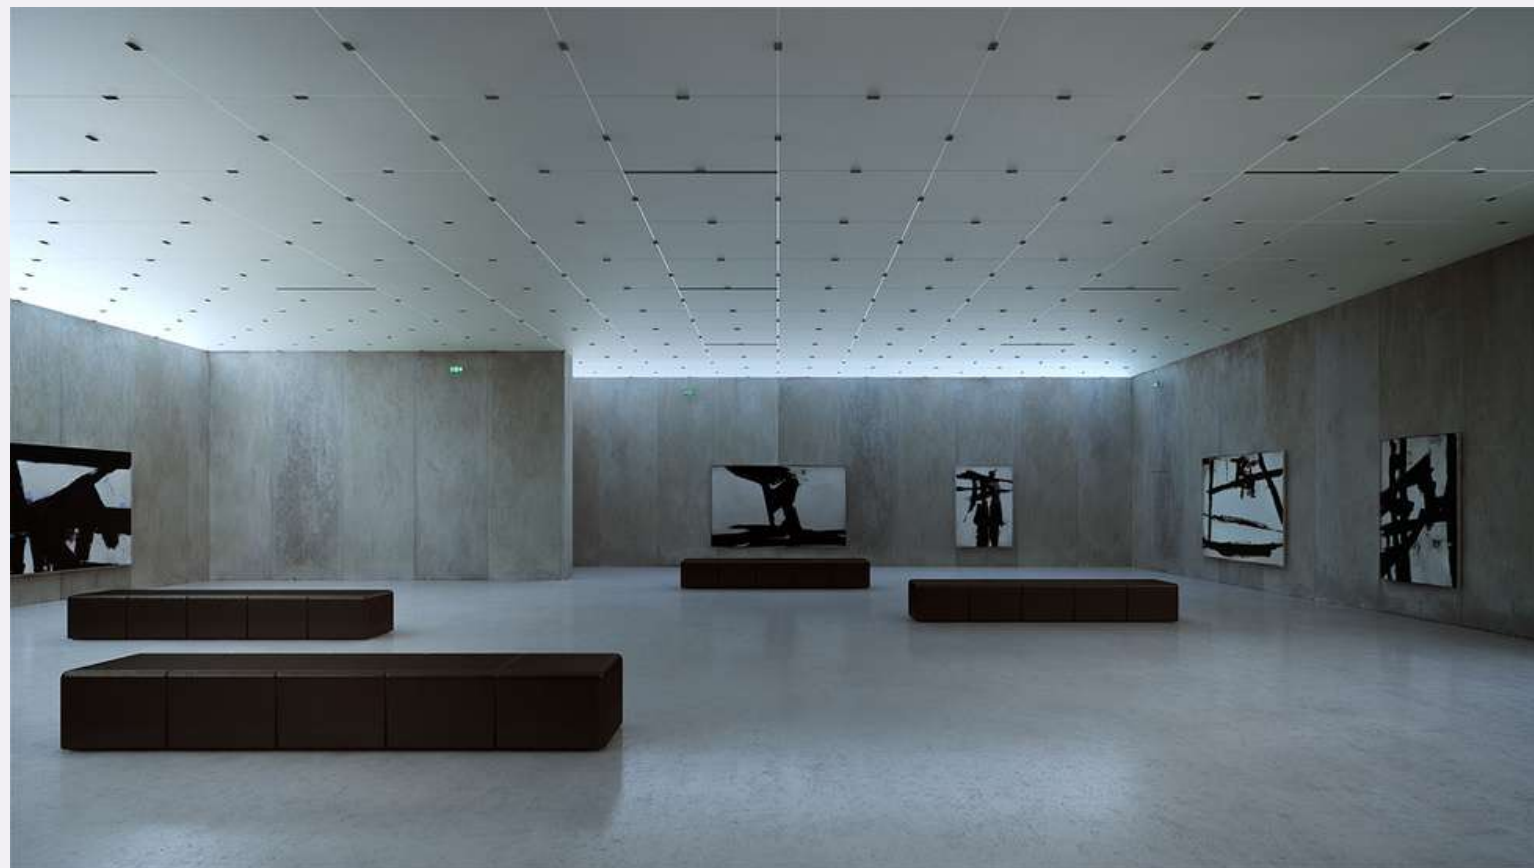

DORNBIRN, A CULTURAL STAGE

The town of Dornbirn is home to a number of cultural venues. In 2003, the inatura Erlebnis Naturschau Dornbirn, an interactive museum of history and natural science, was opened.

The Kunstraum Dornbirn, the Krippenmuseum Dornbirn and the Rolls-Royce Museum are also well-known cultural venues in the city.

In July 2009, a museum was opened for the Munich-based sculptor Wolfgang Flatz, who was born in Dornbirn. The museum, which consists of only two rooms, is devoted entirely to the work of the artist, who is known for his provocative actions.

INC ART FAIR, LAKE CONSTANCE

The INC Art Fair at Lake Constance faces new challenges and shows art as part of a large creative ecosystem coming back to life.

It is a reality, that the art market has changed during the pandemic years. New challenges have been added to the existing ones and audience behaviour has also changed.

That is why Art Bodensee, which has existed since 2001, finally stopped to make way for the INC Bodensee art fair, a new format and creative hub in the corner of the four countries.

INC ART FAIR, LAKE CONSTANCE

GAUDÍ Art Gallery, with 38 years of experience in the Spanish market and more than 20 years participating in exhibitions and International Fairs, will attend for the first time to this prestigious Contemporary Art Fair INC Bodensee Art Fair, Lake Constance, Dornbirn.
